SUMMARY of BHASWARA-2K16

Date: 26/Sept/2016

The 11th Technical State Student Convention "BHASWARA 2K16" was conducted on 27th August 2016, at Geethanjali College of Engineering and Technology premise. The theme of the convention was "Advancements in ICT".

This, state student convention, is conducted in association with Computer Society of India (CSI), Hyderabad Chapter.

The chief guest for the inauguration was Dr. Raju Kalidindi, Director, Cloud R&D, Hewlett Packard (HP) – Hyderabad. The chief guest for the valedictory was Sri. Surya Putchala, CEO, ZettaMine Technologies – Hyderabad.

The event was conducted by the Department of Computer Science, GCET. There were various technical events organized from the various branches (CSE, ECE, IT, EEE, Civil and Mech). The participation to the events was conducted for the students (B.Tech and M.Tech), from the various engineering colleges in the states of Telangana and Andhra Pradesh. The aim of the convention was to encourage inter-disciplinary approach; hence the project presentation and "C" coding competition were conducted by the CSE dept. for the participants from all the branches of engineering, while Paper and Poster presentation were conducted individually by the departments mentioned above.

The schedule and details of the various events that were conducted in attached to this document.

The convention attracted about 350 participants from various colleges. There were 100 Papers, 15 Projects, 70 posters that were presented during the event. There were 120 participants for coding competition.

The photography club also displayed the photos of events that were organized during the previous year.

BHASWARA was possible with the support of faculty of all the departments and about 75 students from various branches who coordinated and volunteered for this event.

The prizes for the various events were distributed during the valedictory function by the chief guest, Sri. Surya Putchala.
